ec.cep.tric.ity*

- 1. an oddity or peculiarity, as of conduct.
- 2. the quality of being eccentric.
- 3. the amount by which something is eccentric.

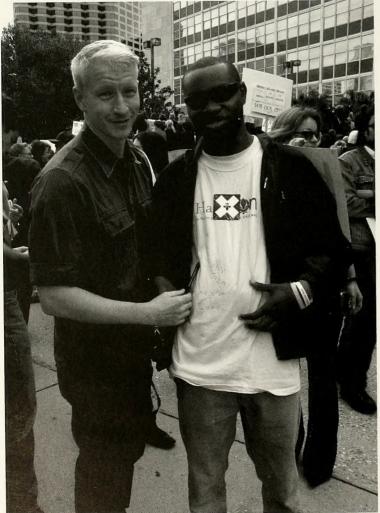

Syn. ECCENTRICITY, PECULIARITY, QUIRK, IDIOSYNCRASY all refer to some deviation in behavior, style, or manner from what is or expected."

Here at Oglethorpe, however, eccentricity is simply a welcome fact of life. Wherever you look on campus, our quirks are what define us here; we celebrate them in ourselves and in others. What would we be without these eccentricities? Certainly not Oglethorpians; certainly not ourselves...

66 And when you see the thing that looks like a castle on the left, turn in there. That's Oglethorpe. You'll like it here.

What does that even stand for?

Creatively Obtaining Real Education?

Classical Observational Rational Enlightenment?

Commentary On Required Erudition? Crazy Oglethorpe Reading

Excrement? Probably all of the above.

Battle of the Bloody Marsh

On October 25, 2006, Oglethorpe held its annual Battle of the Bloody Marsh, a tug-of-war competition between students and a combination of faculty and staff members. This tradition commemorates the 1742 battle in which James Oglethorpe's troops defeated the Spanish on St. Simon's Island. Interestingly enough, the Yamacraw tribe also participated. This year the faculty and staff triumphed over the students with their two-to-one victory.

The Students

Faculty and Staff

Feek Life

A is for Academics. B is for Beer. One of those reasons is why we're not here.

Alpha Sigma Tau

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau stay busy throughout the year with chapter business, social activities, sisterhoods, philanthropy work, and having fun! The Delta Pi chapter has grown considerably since its arrival at Oglethorpe in 2000. As I sisters dedicate time and effort to working with philanthropies like the Pine Mountain Settlement School, Habitat for Humanity, the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Awareness Fund, and the Boys and Girls Club of Atlanta. On campus, As I holds a pink baked goods sale every October during Pink Week to raise money for breast cancer awareness. It is no surprise that this year the As I Delta Pi Chapter won the President's Bronze Award for Volunteering for the second year in a row! Each semester, the sisters get together for the New Member Retreat to strengthen old bonds and form new ones. The ideals of Alpha Sigma Tau are embodied in its open motto: active, self-reliant, and trustworthy.

Chi Phi

The Chi Phi fraternity is a values-based organization founded on the basis of Truth, Honor and Personal Integrity. These are timeless values which guide the fundamental purposes of the Fraternity. Today, our crest and their badge are public symbols for the brothers of Chi Phi, symbols that are instantly recognizable to members, but still appropriately obscure to outsiders. They communicate our proud history without overt bragging.

Covert symbols and deeply rooted fundamentals of virtue and truth, honor and integrity, bind us together in a brotherhood that is strong and timeless.

Chi Omega

To value the talents of women to encourage them in realizing their greatest potential.

These are the principles upon which Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas.

Today, Chi Omega is the largest womens fraternal organization in the world with 300,000 initiates and 169 collegiate chapters. Since its beginning, Chi Omega has nurtured its members by providing them with unique opportunities in leadership, in scholarship, and in life-long friendship. Ours is a distinguished history and our most vital role has been the preparation of young women to achieve their highest possible aspirations.

Now, over a century later, these founding principles are just as relevant. Chi Omega Fraternity was founded at a time when women were just becoming visible on our nation's university campuses. These early collegiate women were destined not only to manage home and family, but they would establish a foothold as leaders in the community and the business world.

Delta Sigma Phi

The Alpha Nu chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity was originally founded in 1835 in Milledgeville, GA, and after both the Civil War and World War I, the chapter was reinstated at Oglethorpe. Today as we enter this new century, we at Alpha Nu are proud to carry the torch handed down by the brothers who came before us. Delta Sigma Phi is continuing to grow, and currently boasts a membership that is involved on campus and in the community. More importantly, the ideals of Delta Sigma Phi are alive in the hearts of every one of our brothers. Almost eighty years ago, a group of men with foresight and courage established the Alpha Nu chapter of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity at Oglethorpe University. Today, we follow in their footsteps, that the world may ever be convinced of the sincerity of our purpose.

Kappa Alpha

The Kappa Alpha Order was founded on December 21, 1865 at what is now Washington and Lee University. The mission of KA is to create a lifetime experience, which centers on reverence to God, duty, honor, character, and gentlemanly conduct as inspired by Robert E. Lee, our spiritual founder. Parties have ranged in theme from Apocalypse Now to Mardi Gras. KA is an active participant in Greek Week and in the Inter-fraternity Council.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

SAE is North America's largest social fraternity with more than 280,000 initiated members. Fraternal symbols include the lion, the phoenix, Minerva, and the fleur-de-lis. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first fraternity to establish a national headquarters (1929), a national Leadership School (1935), a national Mens Health Issues Committee (1980), and a career-development program entitled the Leading Edge (1990). Currently, the Fraternity offers a comprehensive member-education program called The True Gentleman Initiative. Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Oglethorpe strives to promote the highest levels of character, scholarship, and leadership from its members and to serve as a prime example of the positive aspects of Greek life.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Once long ago, in far away town in Virginia lived eight beautiful ladies who stumbled upon the creation called the S.S.S club. This club was not just for anyone but only for the most upstanding and virtuous women who went to Longwood College. Then on the fateful day of April 20, 1898, these eight women created what is known today as a sorority.

Twenty years ago, this now blooming violet organization found its way to Oglethorpe campus. These "sigmas" surround the campus with love, laughter, and happiness. But these modern day members of the S.S.S club could not be contained to the "Oglethorpe bubble", instead they travel to far and dangerous lands in Atlanta in order to visit ill children limited to their hospital walls. Whether to make a quick art project with them or embark on a Mardi Gras Parade, Sigmas were able to do and accomplish much more to children who rarely saw happiness.

To date, the Sigma Sigma Sigma's of Oglethorpe have been accredited with Honors, and Becky LeCompte will represent Epsilon Theta as the sole person initiated at convention. When Oglethorpe thinks of Epsilon Theta's chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, think not of the esoteric nature of its members but the serendipitous quality of the organization as a whole.

Inter-fraternity Council

The Oglethorpe Interfraternity Council (or IFC) exists primarily to promote Fraternity life at Oglethorpe University. We strive to improve both the image of Fraternity life at Oglethorpe and to improve communication between the University and member fraternities. The IFC encourages positive relationships between member fraternities and holds them accountable to IFC and University policies, in order to further the autonomy and increase the accountability of individual Fraternities.

Order of Omega

The Order of Omega Leadership Honor Society is a national honor society made up of the most exemplary leaders from social Greek organizations. The Order of Omega exists to recognize those students who have attained a high standard of leadership in inter-Greek activities, to encourage them to continue along this line, and to inspire others to strive for similar conspicuous attainment. The Order of Omegas goal is to bring together the most representative fraternity and sorority members, and to create an organization which will help mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate affairs. The Order of Omega strives to bring together members of the faculty, alumni, and student members of the institution's fraternities and sororities on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and cooperation, improving Greek life for all students at Oglethorpe.

Clubs &

"There is no pleasure in having nothing to do; the fun is in having lots to do and not doing it."

Circle K

Circle K is the premiere service and leadership development organization for college students. With over 500 chapters in 10 countries, more than 11,000 students serve their campuses and communities every day. Sponsored by Kiwanis International, Circle K began in 1947 at Carthage College in Carthage, IL. The Circle K movement rapidly spread across North America. This loose affiliation of clubs became Circle K International on October 23, 1955, when the Emory University chapter received Charter #1. The Georgia District was founded on October 13, 1959 with 23 clubs. Oglethorpe University Circle K (OUCKI) was first chartered in 1954. During the past 45 years, the club has appeared and disappeared four times. The fourth revival of the club was in the fall of 1998 after a 10 year histus. In the first year of its new existence, 20 members dedicated over 800 hours to the club.

Society of Physics Students

The Society of Physics Students is an organization for all people interested in science, particularly physics majors to meet and collaborate. Our goal is to encourage others to learn about science and physics. We are also a forum for science students to gain knowledge through the exchange of information and ideas.

PSI CHI

Psi Chi is the National Honor Society in Psychology, founded in 1929 for the purposes of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellent scholarship, and advancing the science of psychology. Induction into Psi Chi requires standards of academic achievement for those majoring or minoring in psychology. Psi Chi functions as a federation of chapters located over 1,000 senior colleges and universities in the United States and Canada. The Oglethorpe Chapter began in 1985, and within the past two years has worked to become more active on the Oglethorpe campus.

Phi Delta Epsilon

To promote the highest scientific and educational standards in the field of medicine:

To promote, uphold, and maintain the highest standards of ethics in the practice of medicine, medical teaching, and research;

To promote discussions at all Fraternity levels of current social and economic issues as related to medicine, the practice of medicine, and other healthcare related issues;

To promote nonprofit group service to the community by Fraternity chapter affiliates:

To promote fellowship and mentoring, equality, and unity.

International Club

International Club is a group meant to bring Oglethorpe students together: students of different races, ethnic backgrounds, and social groups. We throw lots of events throughout the school year (such as our ever-popular International Night) that give the student body a chance to explore their own cultures, as well as the cultures of their peers.

Halloween

Halloween is a much anticipated holiday on the OU campus. Social events ranging from the Chi Phi Halloween party, the Sigma Sigma Sigma Halloweenie Roast, and the library's Halloween bash provided plenty of opportunities for students to dress up and have fun. And, of course, Alpha Phi Omega hosted their annual Trick or Treat in Trace event, in which kids from local after school programs can explore a haunted house, play games, and trick or treat throughout the dormitory.

Amnesty International

Starting up in the 2nd Semester, Amnesty International OU is committed to staying engaged, educated, and making a positive difference in the way human rights are respected and recognized within the international community.

Playmakers

The past year has been a very active one for the OU Playmakers, Oglethorpe's theatrical folk. In terms of mainstage productions performed in Conant theatre, Brent Rose chose Wendy MacLeod's darkly comic The House of Yes to direct for his senior project in September Conants Technical Director Chadwick Yarborough followed with a dazzling version of Cabaret, Oglethorpe's first musical in several years. In the spring, senior Amy Lowe directed her own version of Max Lucados childrens book entitled You Are Special. Professor Lee Knippenberg directed Eugène Ionescos absurdist The Bald Soprano in early March, and the mainstage productions concluded in April with theatre department head Deborah Merolas version of Tony Kushners widely acclaimed Angels in America. What a busy 2006-2007 season the theatre department has enjoyed!

By no means, however, were these traditional mainstage productions the only evidence of Oglethorpe students fervor for theatre. Twice during the fall semester, Emerson's Bombshelter hosted a variety of student productions, which resulted from a collaboration of playwriting, directing, and acting classes.

Additionally, sophomore Stephanie Laubscher and senior Kelly Poor mounted their own production of Oscar Wildes The Importance of Being Earnest in Lupton Auditorium.

Ujamaa

Ujamaa aims to enrich the awareness of black cultures at Oglethorpe University and the Metro-Atlanta area. We recognize both the need for unity among black students and a strong relationship among all undergraduates.

Furthermore, we pledge to be active, productive members of the global community by participating in philanthropy, political activism, social events, lecture/guest speakers, creation/distinction of publications, etc. for the benefit and promotion of the African Diaspora.

Moreover, we strive to promote diversity: appreciation, integrity, development, and community interaction between blacks and students of all ethnicities and backgrounds

Jewish Student Union

Starting with one student, freshman Chloe dwards, a Facebook group, and joined later by another freshman, Nathaniel Goldman, the Oglethorpe Jewish Student Union has come to life. Determined to create something from nothing, they sought out a sponsor, Dr. Bonnie Kessler of the counseling center, and began shaping their organization before they were entirely sure there would be the numbers to support one. President Goldman says.

We want the JSU to provide a meeting ground for the Jewish student community to come together, and to share experiences with the larger Oglethorpe student community. A semester later, The Jewish Student Union is small but very active. It has hosted several successful events, including a movie night, shabbat dinner with faculty and staff attendees, and a Hanukkah party, and is currently involved planning future events. The group also has a new banner hanging in the dining hall.

"The most important thing about the JSO to me is not necessarily that we have everybody at every event, but for the students to know that were here if they need us," says VP Edwards.

Black Student Caucus

The purpose of the BSC is to unify the African American community of Oglethorpe University with community service development, group discussions, activities and events. The BSC is a caucus with a cause, and that cause is to be a support for black and minority students who attend Oglethorpe University by providing unity, opportunity and awareness. Its primary function is to help students with the adjustments and adversities they may face by attending a predominantly white university. This organizations goal is to provide academic and social guidance for its members and the community. The BSC will represent and protect the interests of African American and minority students on the Oglethorpe University campus, as well as the surrounding community. Also, the BSC will strive to increase the awareness of African American contributions, issues, and ideas on the campus as well as the community.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega is committed to being the foremost student-run organization in developing lifelong leaders, instilling lasting friendships, and fostering a lifetime of service to all people. We do over 40 projects every semester, and have accumulated an average of over 1000 hours a year.

Some of our major projects include: Trick or Treat in Trace, Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Lynwood Park mentoring, ushering around campus, Trees Atlanta, Good-will, and much more. Alpha Phi Omega is a National Coed Leadership and Service Organization based on the Scout Oath and Law. The Oglethorpe Chapter, Mu Mu, began at Oglethorpe University in February 1958 and was re-chartered in 1976. Since then, weve been one of the largest organizations dedicated to serving the school, the community, the nation, and our organization—an all-inclusive collegiate fraternity.

Feed America Music Foundation

Feed America Music Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping raise money to supply grants to homeless shelters so they can keep offering their service to those who need it. FAMF raises money by compiling songs of lesser-known bands and musicians onto CDs and hosting shows and concerts that give a variety of artists an opportunity to show off their music to a greater audience.

Oltimately, Feed America
Music Foundation hopes to raise peoples awareness about the growing problem of homelessness, help supply funding to those who are trying to help homeless people, get a variety of lesserknown music out to more people, and support both the arts and community service by taking a role in both.

Center for Civic Engagement

MLK project at Achieve Academy

The Center for Civic Engagement at Oglethorpe University officially opened in November 2006 to expand, enhance and promote our connections with the City of Atlanta through service learning, student internships, leadership and community development. Students have volunteered at schools, homeless shelters, food banks, and environmental education organizations. Early in January, 30 students traveled to New Orleans our third trip to the city - to help gut and remove mold from houses ruined during Hurricane Katrina. Already, Oglethorpe has been cited by the Boys and Girls Club, The Home Depot, and President Bush for its commitment to serving our community.

This spring, three students will work as paid interns, "Civic Engagement Ambassadors" in the Center, helping to plan, coordinate and lead service projects, cultural enrichment programs, and community outreach initiatives on and off-campus. Three entering first year students will receive full-tuition scholarships, and as "Civic Engagement Scholars", they will

OUTLET

OUTLET is Oglethorpes LGPTQ organization, participating in many events throughout the year, including National Coming Out Day, AIDS Walk, and National Day of Silence. We are a social and emotional support group for gay men, lesbians, bisexuals, and those questioning their identities on campus. We serve as an educational outreach and community service organization promoting education and equality for lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgendered people. Most of all, we are an active and positive image and voice for gays and lesbians on campus. As the old saying goes, We're here, we're queer, and we wont disappear!

The Tower

The Tower is Oglethorpes literary magazine, comprised of work by Oglethorpe students and designed, created, and printed on campus. The Tower has recently grown, now publishing a full issue in the Fall and Spring semesters, rather than the single issue per year of the past. Each of these issues uses a unique layout, designed by The Tower staff, to collect and display fiction, essays, poetry, and visual art from the Oglethorpe community. The Tower takes its name from the Lupton Bell Tower, where the offices were originally located.

The Tower sims to provide an outlet for artistic expression in the Oglethorpe community by publishing a magazine of student work. In addition to our publications, The Tower provides a regular workshop environment where student writers can meet to critique and encourage one another. We are also responsible for running one event each year, entitled Night of the Arts. It is held each fall and is a chance for OU students, staff, and faculty to share their talents through performance. The evening includes a display of visual artwork, as well as poetry, monologues, and musical composition.

Night of the Arts

As in the past, the staff of Oglethorpes resident literary magazine, The Tower, organized 2006's Night of the Arts. Scheduled during Parents Weekend, this event allows students free reign to exhibit their talents both for students and visiting parents in Emersons Talmage Room

Audience members enjoyed the refreshments and pirate-themed decorations as emcee S. E. Trammell, decked in appropriately swashbuckling garb, introduced the acts, which included poetry readings, a martial arts demonstration, and more. Dr. Orme even mesmerized us on the pianol Additionally, across the building in the TV lounge, Dr. Lochle displayed student artwork.

Omicron Delta Kappa

The Omicron Delta Kappa Society is the national leadership honor society for college students, faculty, staff, administrators, and alumnithat recognizes and encourages superior scholarship, leadership, and exemplary character. Membership in ODK is the highest distinction and honor. Emphasis is placed on the development of the whole person, both as a member of the college community and as a contributor to a better society.

Boar's Head

Each year in early December, Oglethorpe celebrates its annual academic achievement with the traditional Boars Head ceremony followed by a festive ecception in the Conant theatre. The DU Singers regaled us with a holiday concert, during which the guests were requently invited to sing along. (Two of your editors, Amanda Nichols and Kelly Poor even helped carry the boars head during the ceremony (finally, an advantage to being short).

Univesity Singers

Oglethorpe University Singers is the primary musical organization at Oglethorpe University. The ensemble provides for the study and performance of significant choral literature within the liberal arts context of the University and is open to students of all disciplines. The mixed-voice concert choir of approximately thirty-five voices, under the direction of Dr. W. Irwin Ray, is in constant demand for performances in the community and often obliges.

The members of University Singers rehearse three hours each week and for their labor receive one hour of academic credit and the pleasure of the activity itself. Their repertoire includes sacred and secular literature, both accompanied and unaccompanied, ranging from the fifteenth century to the present. It is likely not untrue to state that every member of University Singers, past and present, departs at the end of each year with some feeling of satisfaction in the work accomplished and the music created.

Chess Club

The Chess Club strives to allow and encourage the playing of chess and provide those interested with the necessary materials to do so. Furthermore, we intend to enlighten the Oglethorpe community through chess. Remember mating is fun, in chess that is!

Thalian Society

The Thelian Society derives its name from Thales whom is considered to be the "first" philosopher from Greece. Our Society is one of Oglethorpe University's oldest clubs. In the 1990's the Thelian Society struggled to maintain itself and eventually fell apart. A few attempts had been made in previous veers to revive the club, but it wasn't until fall of 2006 that Trevor Sheffield revived the Thalian Society. This year the Thalian Society has built up more momentum then it has had in years. Hopefully with the help of passionate Oglethorpe University students the Thelian Society will continue to grow and contribute to the community of the school. We host weekly meeting on campus that are comprised mostly of Oglethorpe Students. Once a month there is a guest speaker. Students from a variety of majors are known to speak at meetings on topics that they find to be of personal interest. Members of the Thalian Society also travel to other universities within the state of Georgia to listen to speakers. We encourage our members to work diligently on papers that are submitted to conventions across the nation. Through this process, Thalians hopes to improve the level of scholarship amongst our members and fellow school mates.

Student Progressive Activist Network (SPANK)

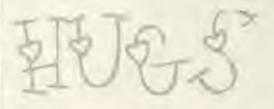

We want the same things that almost everybody wants: clean air and water, equal rights for people of all races, creeds and ethnicities, and continued protection of the rights and freedoms we enjoy as Americans. It's not about which party you side with. It's about being informed and aware enough to fight for what you believe is right.

Helping Unicef Grow Stronger (HUGS)

HUGS is a service organization dedicated to fundraising, educating, and advocating on behalf of underprivileged children.

OU Dancers

The OU Dancers, which has been in existence in its current form since 1998, has taken pride in representing the best that OU has to offer. The dancers are well-rounded students who share a strong dedication to success and a love of dance. In addition to dancing at basketball games, again this year the team has been honored to represent Oglethorpe in The USA Collegiate National Competition held in Las Vegas.

OU Cheerleaders

Jump high. Petrels, get up off your feet! Fans of Stormy Petrels basketball take notice as the Oglethorpe University cheerlesders pump the Petrels up to victory. Led by junior Millicent Mickki Cone and sophomore Lamona Bowden, the OU Cheerlesders jump, yell, and dance while promoting spirit for the team. These spirited students make it their goal to provide support for the men's and women's basketball teams while entertaining the crowd in the process. The squad, which also consists of freshmen Ashlee Brown and Kayla Thompson, sophomores Christopher Roberts, Nubia Smith, and Erica Minson, and junior Deyonna Scott, is proud to wear black, gold, and white! Go Petrels!

KHAYOS

Khayos Entertainment is an eclectic dance group that edifies the Oglethorpe Spirit Coalition. Comprised of seven females and one male, this dance team captivates audiences with its fierce dance moves. Performances are characterized by intricate hip-hop choreography and todays latest music. The team includes members from various states such as Georgia, Tennessee, New York, Arkansas, Ohio, and all the way to Mississippi. This collaboration gives the team an unique flair and edge.

2006-2007 Team members include:

Oglethorpe Student Association

The Oglethorpe Student Association (OSA) is Oglethorpe University's Student Government Association. The OSA strives to enhance the Oglethorpe experience by acting as advocates for student concerns, advancing relationships between students and administrators, providing events and programming to the campus, and by improving campus life for Oglethorpe students. In all action, the OSA strives to fairly represent student body opinions and concerns.

Oglethorpe Student Association

Through the collection of the Student Activity Fee, the OSA has put on events such as the Orientation Party at Café TuTu Tango, Dead Days Eve at Andrews Upstairs, Homecoming at the Fox Theater, and other numerous events throughout the year. Additionally, the OSA led the effort and spent a significant amount on renovating the bomb shelter and adding the entertainment that is there today.

The Stormy Petrel

The Stormy Petrel has been Oglethorpes student-run newspaper since 1919. We have gone through many revisions, from developing new layouts to creating new sections, as a long line of editors have tried their hand at running the paper. The 2006-2007 year brings us all the way to our 82nd volume. The purpose of The Stormy Petrel is to provide news to the Oglethorpe community, particularly the news that relates to what happens on our own campus. This year, the paper has returned to its traditional bi-weekly publication. For the 2006-2007 school year, there are six sections that complete The Stormy Petrel: News, Life in the Bubble, Opinions, Arts & Entertainment, Sports, and Hindsight.

"I have told my friends numerous times, "This is the closest that I will ever come to having a baby." It's one of the scariest things I could have ever done; it still is because now you're reading it. When Bisell asked me to take over for the 2007 book, I told him, "Okay; here's to 148 blank pages." But now, thanks to my wonderful staff, this living, breathing entity that was once a prayer has turned into a reality that I will never forget."

Dallas, Editor-in-Chief

"I suppose by writing this it means that we actually finished the yearbook. That is victory enough. When Dallas asked me to be layout editor last year I thought, "Why not, sounds like fun." It was only the beginning of this year that we both found out we were completely clueless on how one goes about making a yearbook. However, we did it and the result resembles a yearbook. Looking back on the process, it was remarkably fun...yet stressful at times. Anyway, I hope you enjoy it as much as I have enjoyed making it."

Amende Nichols, Leyout Editor

"I happened across my position as this year's Yamacraw copy editor rather unexpectedly. In fact, Dallas virtually assigned me the job, claiming that my English major necessitated my involvement. Mostly, the past year has been incredibly eventful for me, so I hope that Dallas is not too disappointed with her decision and that I did not cause us to miss too many deadlines. Otherwise, if you do not know me, I'm a quirky little senior here at Oglethorpe generally referred to as kellypoor, a quickly spoken hybrid. I hope that this edition of the Yamacraw will satisfy everyone's nostalgia in the coming years."

Dead Day

At the end of each semester, Dead Day provides students with one last chance to celebrate (and study, if you're lucky) before finals drain all stamina and motivation. Students danced the night away at fall semester's Dead Day's Eve bash, which took place at Buckhead's

Andrew's Upstairs on December 11. After a full day of rejuvenation, students decked out in pajamas were treated to a latenight feast cooked by OU's charitable faculty and staff (including Dr. Schall's wife!) at the biannual Eggs A.M. Breakfast.

Reviving Clubs

The 2006 school year brought with it a wave of renewed interest in student organizations. Several clubs were revived and revamped in the fall, including the Jewish Student Union, the Black Student Caucus, the Thalian Society, and Amnesty International. Most of the clubs that were brought back were done so by a few freshmen and one by a faculty member.

Trevor Sheffield

Black Student Caucus

Jewish Student Union

The Jewish Studen Union was brought back by freshmen Nathaniel Goldman and Chloe Edwards. The Black Student Caucus' President is Freshman Chelsia Green. And Amnesty International was revived by freshman Richard Esquivel. The Thalian Society, however, has stood out from the pack. Junior Trevor Sheffield and Dr. Simon Sparks worked together to breathe life back into the organization.

Homecoming

On February 9, 2007, Oglethorpe students celebrated our annual Homecoming Day complete with basketball games and a dance. The athletic competition began at 6:00 P.M. as our Lady Petrels defeated the Millsaps College Majors 87 to 67. Afterwards, our men's team played at 8:00 and lost by the small margin of four points with the victory going to Millsaps with 78 points. All the spectators were treated to a close competition and entertaining halftime shows.

Later that evening, Oglethorpe held its greatly anticipated Homecoming Dance from 11:00 P.M. to 3:00 A.M. at the Fox Theater's stylish Egyptian Ballroom. Many students attended, and we all shivered together in our best attire as we rode the shuttle buses and checked in at the Fox. The dance floor was busy the entire night, and those on the periphery enjoyed chatting with friends, posing for photographs, and eating the tasty hors d'oeuvres which included a chocolate fountain.

Near the end of the festivities, the DJ paused for the senior walk to recognize and celebrate those students graduating from Oglethorpe. In addition to all of our memories and photos from this year's Homecoming, students received souvenir t-shirts and clocks when they purchased their tickets to the dance. And a few days later on our annual Oglethorpe Day, Dallas Greene and Ben Minor were crowned Lord and Lady Oglethorpe.

Jetsetting around the Country

This year, Oglethorpe received round-trip Air Tran tickets to anywhere in the country. So, faculty and students took advantage of this offer. Dr. Loehles art studio class went to New York for one day. Dr. Deborah Merola took a group of theatre students on a fairly impromptu two-day, one night trip to New York City thanks to Air Tran's generosity to Oglethorpe. All of the students attended Voyage, the amazing first installment of Tom Stoppards new trilogy, The Coast of Utopia. For the remainder of the trip, students broke off into small groups, or on their own, to enjoy the city's vast cultural offerings. Although exhausted upon their late return to Atlanta, the travelers thoroughly enjoyed their trip and were grateful for the opportunity.

A Bubble's Facelift

And what a nice facelift it is. After taking a year off after the heavily, involved construction of the residence hall NoSo, starting in the summer of 2006, Oglethorpe underwent many renovations. A few of the renewing projects happened by funding from generous donors; others happened from the school's operating budget, and some came into being because of student input.

First, Trace doors got a fresh coat of paint during the summer. Secondly, Upper Quad suites received new carpeting and also a fresh coat of paint; and Greek Row floors went from carpeting to the more practical tile flooring.

The tennis courts were completely renovated and had their opening ceremony earlier in the fall. The Bomb Shelter went through a complete overhaul, which was paid for by OSA and the students activity fee, and it now ranks as one of the coolest hang-out places for students and staff alike.

But the biggest difference on campus is the new residence hall, quaintly coined Phase II, that is being built behind Dempsey Hall. It is said to be completed in August 2007.

Oglethorpe Day

A beloved tradition for students and faculty alike, Oglethorpe Day began just before noon on a particularly cold Valentine's Day with a bagpipe summons on the Academic Quad. The first chime of the 12:00 bells then marked the start of the muchanticipated Petrels of Fire race. Finishing first, Tim Ernst was only a split second short of completing the 270-yard dash around the quad before the last toll of the bells.

The sound of the bagpipes then led students and faculty to the Conant Performance Arts Center for Convocation featuring keynote speaker Deborah Lipstadt, the Dorot Professor of Modern Jewish and Holocaust Studies at Emory University and author of History on Trial: My Day in Court with David Irving. The exciting day concluded with a complimentary buffet-style feast for the Oglethorpe community featuring samples from Atlanta vendors.

From me. To You.

It's traditional for the editor-in-chief to present a letter to the masses. It is not traditional, however, to put said letter at the very end of the book. To be cute, I could say that this particular book isn't traditional, but I want to be honest with you. I put this little note at the end for two reasons: one, I am not an eloquent speaker, and two, I wanted it to be the very last thing that I worked on in this yearbook. I wanted every word that was typed to be sincerely from my heart, with all of the Yamacraw 2007 experiences freshly behind me.

There were a lot of blood (paper cuts), sweat (running to get those last final pictures), and tears (because of the paper cuts and running) that were put into this yearbook. We came up with the theme Eccentricity for 2007 because we really wanted to portray what Oglethorpe is; that is, if it can even be put into one word. So, years down the road when you pick this book up to relive some memories, I hope you can smile and say, "That's exactly how I remember it. What were we thinking?"

I hope you've enjoyed my little view of the place that I dearly love.

Sincerely,
Dallas Greene

(This isn't me, but I really like the picture.)

The Yamacraw 2007 is dedicated to...

Mark Delong.
Our PR guy.
Our Advisor.
Our Friend.
But mostly, the guy who kept the yearbook staff
sane without ever knowing it.

Thanks, Mark. You're the greatest.

"There is a theory which states that if ever for any reason anyone discovers what exactly the Universe is for and why it is here it will instantly disappear and be replaced by something even more bizarre and inexplicable. There is another that states that this has already happened."

~Douglas Adams
